

NYC Rebuilds And Remembers 9/11 In 20-Year Time-Lapse 'Never Forgotten' - EarthCam CEO Joins RTM

September 1, 2021

A new and devastating page was written in U.S. history 20 years ago on September 11, 2001. Just days after the attack, EarthCam installed webcams at Ground Zero to broadcast the search and rescue efforts for families of the missing. For the next 20 years, the company captured the reconstruction of the site from over 100 viewing angles, totaling 13.3 million individual images. Now, EarthCam shares that never-before-seen footage in an incredible documentary-style time-lapse film, "Never Forgotten." CEO Brian Cury joins the RTM hosts to discuss the importance of the unique film.
